

BRIDGING THE GAP
BETWEEN IT AND BUSINESS

If you want to be a leader, be a bridge
Welsh proverb

Cygnum SA [sig-“num] is a consulting boutique, specialized in corporate and project development.

We provide support for domestic and international clients in implementing corporate IT and HR projects. And we have been present in a challenging and diversified market since 2001. Professionalized project management and in-depth knowledge are crucial success factors when it comes to complex implementations.

Corporation

High professional competence in the ranges of project management and HR solutions has satisfied Cygnum SA's clients since 2001. The main point always is the alignment of business matters with IT requirements in order to achieve the right balance.

Our assignments have a typical ratio of 60% business- and 40% IT know-how. As “interpreters” of both worlds, we want to help both sides to reach a target.

Our own experience tells us that bottleneck problems often occur, when it comes to project management capacity. External consulting and support can be a solution to that. Such investments are benefits, because deeds have always been better than waiting.

Services

With our services we not only support our clients' definition of various project contents but also give them professional back up and provide resources when it comes to implementation – until the desired results have been accomplished.

Our portfolio of services is clear, yet ample. It always ranges between the opposing poles of operational business and IT.

Our services are:

- ▶ Consulting and requirement analysis
- ▶ Overall project management and sub-project management
- ▶ Project support
- ▶ Troubleshooting
- ▶ Evaluation of software and services
- ▶ HR management consulting
- ▶ Design and Implementation of payroll-/personnel information systems (Xpert.HRM)

*Is there a better motivation than success?
Ian Tiriac (1940)

Clients

Our clients come from various lines of business and all of them highly estimate our capability to reach tangible goals.

Our entrepreneurial and personal commitment, profound expertise and personal experience have always been pivotal factors for our clients to work with us. As interface between business and IT we create the confidence and trust needed to achieve a goal. We work in close co-operation with our clients, because we know that this is the only way to success and sustained results.
